To Whom It May Concern:

This past week the students at Warder Elementary had the privilege of seeing Kin Quitugua's amazing Hawkquest assembly. What an impression Kin and his majestic birds made on our students as they are still talking about the assembly a week later.

Kin provided students the opportunity to learn how these birds of prey live, hunt, and survive. Kin provided students the opportunity to simulate how the hawk and owl hunt their prey which the students thought was fantastic. Students were able to act out the difference in how the birds fly.

It is obvious that Kin has a love and passion for these birds of prey. He is an amazing presenter as evident in how he was able to engage students in the presentation. Kin also shared his beliefs regarding the importance of showing respect for nature and our earth's resources.

The Warder students truly enjoyed the Hawkquest assembly and would love to have Kin Quitugua back for another visit. I have enclosed a few of our students Thank you notes to Kin. Please read through the comments and emails. Thank you very much for a tremendous experience.

Sincerely,
